I. TRAINING

1. Washington Department of Commerce: Short Course on Local Planning

This training hosted by the Washington Department of Commerce from 6:00 – 9:00 PM on September 29, 2022 will provide an overview of local planning in Washington State. According to the event organizer, the training is offered at no charge and is open to the public. A link for event registration, additional details about the training, and related resources are available at <https://www.commerce.wa.gov/serving-communities/growth-management/short-course/>.

*As this is not a regular meeting of the Planning Commission, it will not follow the standard format for regular Planning Commission meetings and will take place through an external website.
